

Internship - Radio Network Planning Engineer

About us:

As one of the region's largest telecommunications infrastructure services provider, CETIN Group drives digital transformation by providing cutting edge telecommunications infrastructure solutions.

The CETIN Group means four infrastructure operators - CETIN Bulgaria, CETIN Hungary, CETIN Serbia and CETIN in the Czech Republic with approximately 3000 employees. With the organization we are constantly working on improving and managing technology demands, our focus is to deploy the best in class telco infrastructure and meet challenging market demands.

CETIN Serbia is a provider of fixed and mobile infrastructure services to telco operators, internet service providers and other companies in the Serbian and regional market and was founded in 2020 after undergoing a legal separation from Telenor Serbia

ROLE OVERVIEW:

- Radio Network planning and optimization in all generations of mobile network technologies (2G/3G/4G and next generation network 5G) according to capacity, coverage and market requirements
- Analyze drive and walk test results (including GSM/UMTS/LTE/5G mobile network benchmarking and measurements due to customer complaints) and propose solution for radio network quality and coverage improvement
- Indoor coverage solution design
- Frequency, neighbour list and parameter planning and optimisation
- Antenna system optimization
- Work on tools used for radio network planning (Infovista, Ranplan)
- Maintaining and updating planning tools and databases and providing their consistency with NMS system
- Preparation of documentation on radio network for regulatory organizations
- Development of spatial plans

MAIN REQUIREMENTS:

- University degree in Electrical Engineering preferably Telecommunications science at least final year of study
- Computer skills - MS Office
- To be a team player, well organized and structured
- Strong communication skills in English (both written and verbal)
- Self-driven and motivated to learn and constantly develop

What we offer you:

- Open working space and flexible working hours
- Paid internship and career development opportunities
- Laptop, mobile phone and tariff package in line with company policy
- Working with talented people willing to share their professional knowledge

Prijavite se putem sledećeg linka; <https://careers.ceetelcogroup.com/job-invite/20908/>